Told Thaw of Her Career With the Architect and Did Not Deem It Proper to Marry Latter,
but He Insisted.

New York, Feb. 7.—The announcement that either the mother or wife of Harry K. Thaw would be the principal witness in Thursday's proceedings brought out an unusually large crowd at the criminal court building. The corridors were filled and scores of people—many of them women—tried in every possible way to force themselves by the officers at the courtroom doors, but the bars were put up and but few allowed to pass. Over half a score of women succeeded in entering. They were attired in the gayest of costumes.

Justice Fitzgerald had just taken his seat on the bench when Mr. Delmas, Thaw's counsel, requested the clerk to call Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. The familiar figure in blue, now for the first time without her veil, appeared from the judge's room. She stood near the jury box. Clerk Penny administered the oath. "I swear," repeated Mrs. Thaw, in an audible voice, at the end of the formal declaration, which was made just little more impressive than usual. Mrs. Thaw took her place in the witness chair calmly. She looked steadily ahead at Mr. Delmas and gave her answers to his first questions in a clear and firm voice, which were soft in quality. Harry Thaw smiled at his wife as she walked to the witness chair, but she apparently did not see him at that moment. After she was seated, however, she smiled faintly at the prisoner.

Mrs. Thaw's beauty was generally commented on in court. The simplicity of her dress seemed to heighten the effect. Her long dark lashes and heavy eyebrows were noticeable now for the first time to those who followed the trial. In the excitement of testifying her paleness of the past two weeks vanished before the rush of crimson tints in her cheeks.

In answer to Mr. Delmas' first question Mrs. Thaw said she was born Dec. 25, 1884. She told of going to Cafe Martin to dinner on the evening of June 25 with her husband, Mr. McCaleb and Truxton Beale.

Mrs. Evelyn Thaw gave testimony corroborating that of the other witnesses as to the details of the shooting. Mrs. Thaw said she refused to marry Thaw at Paris in 1903 because of the incident of her life connected with Stanford White.

Mrs. Thaw said she met Stanford White at luncheon in 1901. She thought his "very big and ugly." The party to which she was taken was "in a dingy Twenty-fourth street house." The luncheon to which she had been invited was in a private apartment sumptuously furnished and she said she was told in advance of going to the luncheon with some society people and hoped it was at the Waldorf-Astoria, as I wanted to see that hotel.

Mrs. Thaw testified that White sent her mother to Pittsburgh and then took her to one of his studios, where she dined alone with him.

Mrs. Thaw told of her experience with White in a mirrored bedroom. She screamed and screamed, but he said: "It is all over." She sat up all night after he had taken her home. Mrs. Thaw broke down and cried and could hardly proceed as she related her experience with White. Thaw sat with his face buried in a handkerchief.

Mrs. Thaw said Mr. Thaw, when she told him, got down on his knees picked up the edge of her dress and kissed it. White made Mrs. Thaw promise, she said, that she would never tell her mother. He said it was all right; that there was "nothing so nice as young girls and nothing so loathsome as fat ones. You must never get fat."

Mrs. Thaw said the effect of her story on Thaw was terrible. He sobbed and walked the floor and stayed up all night, sitting in the room talking it over.

Mrs. Thaw said she told Thaw that she could not marry him, for White would always know and would laugh at him and talk. This was the second time Thaw proposed.

Mrs. Thaw said she became ill at school early in 1903 and that an operation was performed. Its nature was not gone into. The doctors did not tell her what was the matter. When she recovered Thaw took her and her mother to Paris.

"It was in September, 1901," said Mrs. Thaw, who appeared but a slip of a girl in the big witness chair, with her hair caught low on the neck and tied with a big black ribbon, "when Mr. White invited me to another of the parties I had attended with him.

I had been left in his care by my mother, whom he had sent to Pittsburgh. I was just sixteen years of age. This night when I got to Mr. White's studio in Twenty-fourth street there was not anybody there.

"Mr. White said: 'Well, well, they all seem to have turned us down.' He said: 'Never mind, we will eat alone.' Later I said I must go home. He said he wanted to show me another part of the house and we went into a bedroom with mirrors all around. 'He gave me more champagne. Then everything became whirly and black. When I came to my clothes were all off. I screamed and screamed, but he kept telling me to stop, saying: 'It's over; it's all right.'"

Going back to her girlhood the prisoner's wife told the entire story of her life—how she was brought to New York by her mother and posed for famous artists to earn money for the family support. She also took a place in the chorus of a musical show, and it was while there she met White.

Mrs. Thaw was on the stand two hours and her direct examination had not been concluded when luncheon adjournment was taken. As she walked from the witness chair along the passageway back of the jury box she felt along the wall with the finger tips of her left hand as if about to faint. From scarlet her face had paled to the whiteness of a sheet.

Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw resumed the stand after recess. The only place in the courtroom not invaded by the crowd was the judge's bench. Jerome withdrew his objection to the admission of the letter to Thaw and the letter was put in evidence.

STOCKYARD RATE BILL.

Fort Worth Delegation and Other Persons Oppose It.

Austin, Feb. 7.—The house committee on state affairs Thursday considered Representative Wilmet's bill, which seeks to regulate stockyard rates and to fix charges to be observed by such stockyard companies. A delegation of Fort Worth people and also stockmen from other sections of the state are here before the committee in opposition to its passage. Among those here are Attorney William Capps, Louis J. Wortham, Burt Burnett, C. H. Yoakum. Mr. Capps addressed the committee. It was shown to the committee by the speaker that if the bill should become a law it will have the effect to retard operations of stockyards and will ultimately destroy Fort Worth as a livestock market. Judge Capps spoke of the large packeries located at Fort Worth and improvements which have been made in stockyards, and said the passage of such an act would result to the detriment of Fort Worth and the stock business generally.

The house committee on criminal jurisprudence has killed a bill which sought to prohibit gambling with cards at private residences.

The house committee on fish and game laws considered all bills relating to the amending of game laws. It was decided to finally consider all measures on the subject on next Monday.

"VOTE FOR THAW."

Captain Lynch Said Man Spoke as a "Smart Aleck."

New York, Feb. 7.—While the Thaw jury was on its way to court Thursday morning a man on the street cried out: "Vote for Thaw!" Captain Lynch of the court promptly ordered the man arrested and brought to court to be arraigned before Justice Fitzgerald. Captain Lynch attached no importance to the incident, saying the man spoke simply "as a smart Aleck." Captain Lynch did not believe any jurors heard the remark.

SHERIFF SHOTS DEPUTY.

Latter Mortally Wounded in Effort to Prevent Former From Suiciding.

Winona, Miss., Feb. 7.—While attempting to save his chief from suiciding Deputy Sheriff Campbell Binford was shot and probably mortally wounded by Sheriff T. J. Whitehead. The deputy wrenched a revolver away from Whitehead, getting a bullet just below the heart as he did so. Whitehead's daughter held her father while the wounded deputy ran from the house with the revolver. Sheriff Whitehead then attempted to cut his throat with a pocketknife, but was overpowered by other men. Ill health unbalanced his mind.

Badly Hurt in Oil Mill.

Palestine, Tex., Feb. 7.—John Weiss, while working at the Palestine oil mill Thursday morning, got his left arm caught in the cogs of a press roller, and it was cut off at the shoulder. His head and body were also bruised up and he is in a dangerous condition. This is the same mill in which a young man was killed several days ago.

Dr. Simpson Acquitted.

Riverhead, L. I., Feb. 7.—The jury in the case of Dr. J. W. Simpson, charged with the murder of his father-in-law, returned a verdict of not guilty.

THE MORNING EAGLE

Entered at the Postoffice in Bryan, Texas
as second-class matter.

BY CARNES & WALLACE

BRYAN, TEXAS, FEB. 8, 1907.

Civic pride promotes good citizenship.

Bryan hasn't had a business failure in so long that we suspect even the lawyers have forgotten how to write the papers.

There are thousands of dollars waiting to be dug out of Brazos county soil, and the man who does not own his own home should not let the present year go by without a strong and persistent effort to get one.

"Draw up the papers, lawyer, And make 'em good and stout, For things at home are crossways And Betsy and I are out."

The legislature at Austin is tinkering with the divorce law and may accomplish something of benefit, but in the opinion of the Eagle laws making it harder to get married would go about as far towards correcting the trouble as measures looking to making separation difficult. The man seeking a marriage license ought to at least have to answer as many questions satisfactorily as are required to secure a poll tax receipt.

BIG MASQUERADE PARTY.

Several of the Bryan Ladies Will Give
One Monday Evening at Elks
Hall in Honor of the Elks —Visitors Expected.

The Eagle learns that several of the Bryan ladies will on next Monday evening give a masquerade party at Elks Hall, complimentary to the members of the local lodge of Elks and the occasion will be one of the brilliant social functions of the season. A large assortment of handsome costumes have been ordered and others are being made for the occasion, and music will be supplied by Besserer's splendid orchestra of Austin. In this notable compliment the ladies will reciprocate for the many social courtesies extended to them by the Elks. A number of visitors are expected from Navasota, Hearne and Calvert.

BARACA CLASS.

The Baraca Class of the Sunday school of the First Baptist church met last night at the office of Mr. T. R. Batte, the teacher selected for this class of young men, and completed organization with sixteen charter members and the election of the following officers: W. H. Bell, president; J. R. Zimmerman, vice-president; W. A. Watkins, secretary; W. L. Closs, treasurer; Frank W. Thompson, reporter.

Among other ladies who lent the influence of their presence to the meeting was Mrs. J. W. Byers of Waco, a guest of Dr. and Mrs. Butler. She organized the first Baraca class in Texas. It has a membership of 100 and a regular attendance 75. Mrs. Byers made an inspiring talk to the young men on the class work.

DR. BETTS ENTERTAINS CHURCH OFFICERS.

Dr. I. F. Betts, pastor of the Methodist church, gave a dinner last evening at the parsonage complimentary to the board of stewards and trustees of the church and members of the building committee. The parlor and dining-room of the handsome new home of the pastor and his family were adorned with cut flowers, the parlor with roses and the dining-room with violets. On the table was snowy damask, with a beautiful floral centerpiece and a bunch of violets at each place.

Dr. and Mrs. Betts received the guests and the latter was assisted in the duties of hostess by her daughters, Misses Nannie Lou and Lola Betts. The dinner was served in courses and its excellence was attested by the hearty manner in which each guest partook of the many good things placed before him. The added relish of good fellowship and social conversation was also a most attractive feature, and served to draw more closely together the official members of the church in a manner of benefit and pleasure to all.

It was a matter of much regret that several of the official members were not able to attend.

Those present included the pastor and host, members of the board of stewards, trustees and building committee, as follows: R. S. Webb, E. J. Jenkins, C. E. Jenkins, C. G. Walker, T. S. Minter, E. W. Crenshaw, A. M. Waldrop, Dr. W. H. Lawrence, J. H. Webb, M. Carnes.

DEAD AT THROTTLE.

With Most Terrific Speed Train Travels Through Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—The Congressional Limited train from Washington ran through this city Wednesday night at a terrific speed with Engineer Tom Toms dead at the throttle. The train, which was made up of seven buffet, dining and parlor cars, makes two stops in this city, one at West Philadelphia and the other at North Philadelphia. Shortly after the train left West Philadelphia the fireman Harry Michner, noticed the speed of the train. He called to Toms, but received no answer, and when the train rushed past Fairmont Park and neared North Philadelphia, the fireman climbed over the big boiler into the engineer's cab to find Toms dead with his hand on the throttle. His head was hanging out of the cab window, and had been crushed by striking some object along the road. Michner brought the train to a stop at North Philadelphia, where a new engineer was secured and the train proceeded to New York. The passengers were not told of the accident.

KILLING ADMITTED.

Self-Defense, However, Is the Motive Given For Deed.

El Paso, Feb. 7.—Antonio Villareal, the alleged Mexican revolutionist in jail here, has set up a plea in his appeal to the secretary of commerce and labor. He now admits the killing charged, but claims that it was done in self-defense, and does not convict him of moral turpitude. The whole case now hangs upon the definition of moral turpitude by the authorities at Washington.

To the People of Bryan and Brazos County:

Having recently opened a MARBLE and GRANITE YARD in Bryan, I am going to put the prices on this kind of work where they should be. Note some of the following:

Headstones in White, Clouded, or Blue Rutland Marble 2 ft. 4 in. high, complete with footstone, set at grave for $3.75. Other sizes, 2 ft. 6 in. high to 4 ft. high, 10 in. to 18 in. wide, of the best marble at prices ranging from $4.75 to $15.00. Beautiful markers for children's graves $3.25 to $25.00. Monuments in all the different colored Marbles from $12.50 up to $500.00. Granite Monuments and Markers from $50.00 to as high as you wish to invest. There should not be an unmarked grave in Bryan cemetery at the prices I am making. I can make these prices because when you deal with me you deal directly with the manufacturers and I save you 20 or 25 per cent commission you pay agents when you figure with out of town concerns. Why pay more for this kind of work away from home than you would have to pay for it right here in Bryan? I guarantee you the best material and the best of workmanship, having had 18 years experience in the Marble business, I ought to know these things and believe I can prove to you that I do. I sell all kinds of Cemetery work, Iron Fencing, and furnish estimates on all kinds of stone work for buildings.

GIVE THE HOME MAN A CHANCE.

MARY CARSON KIDD IN ITALY.

"Last Friday, in spite of the bad weather, a good audience gathered at the Sala Filarmónica to hear the recital of Miss Mary Carson Kidd.

The piece de resistance, the grand aria from Lucia Di Lammermoor was given with exquisite grace and brilliancy; very pleasing were the songs Ritournelle (Chaminade) and D'une Prison (Schlesinger). Miss Kidd was remarkably pleasing in the several English compositions which she included in her program; especially applauded and encored was Kidd's 'The Night Has a Thousand Eyes.' Maestro Raffaello Panzani accompanied."—Italian Gazette, Florence, Italy.

'Twas this same Panzani who brought out Mme. Nevada and who says of Miss Kidd: "She can do anything that Melba can do."

HENDRICK HEARD.

Bailey Used No Money to Influence Former Committee.

Austin, Feb. 7.—The first witness on Thursday before the Bailey investigating committee was Judge Hendrick of Rusk, who was chairman of the legislative investigating committee in 1901. Judge Hendrick declared that no money had been used by Bailey to influence that committee. He said that McFall had only testified once during the sessions of the body. He asserted that he had asked publicly at the time for persons to appear before the committee and tell what they knew about the Bailey matter. Judge Hendrick said he voted for the Garner substitute for the McFall resolution. He claimed that he had been a good friend of the late Judge McFall. He believed he did not vote for the McFall measure to inquire into the re-entrance of the Waters-Pierce Oil company into the state. He admitted that the former investigation was very limited, as compared to the present inquiry. Judge Hendrick stated that Bailey had not told the former committee that he had borrowed money from Pierce and did not relate Stribling's employment by the Waters-Pierce company and the payment of a retainer fee of $3,100. He said that the committee had admitted hearsay evidence, and said little attention was paid to technical rules. He caused laughter on the Bailey side by saying that he believed the present committee was admitting evidence, two-thirds of which would not be allowed in any court.

Mr. Cocke asked witness if he knew of his own knowledge that Bailey's expenses were not paid by the Waters-Pierce company.

Judge Hendrick replied: "I knew it just as sure as I know there is a heaven where honest people go and a hell where slanderers will be found."

Mr. Cocke—Do you speak of the latter place from any personal knowledge?

Congressman-elect S. B. Cooper was the next witness. He stated that he was opposed to making Port Arthur the port of entry because he believed it a private waterway. He said the bill was finally put through making it a port of entry, but the canal was decided to the government first. He said he introduced a bill by request of E. B. Mentz, who testified Tuesday. Mr. Cooper said that Bailey's position was that he would follow his (Cooper's) advice in reference to the Port Arthur proposition. Witness went into details about the Sabine Pass and Port Arthur propositions and Bailey's connection with them. Bailey had said of Mentz that the witness told that "Judge Mentz is injuring the proposition and his manner is not pleasant."

Mr. Cooper believed that Kirby and the Kuntze Bros.' representatives were working for the Sabine Pass project.

Mr. Cocke asked Mr. Cooper if he had been subpoenaed to come. Mr. Cooper stated that he had been telegraphed for by J. N. Jones. Mr. Cocke asked if he knew whether or not Mr. Jones had been a lobbyist.

Mr. Jones arose and stated that he had taken little part in the proceedings, but he must state that the question "was an infamous slander."

Chairman O'Neal ruled the Cocke question out of order. Mr. Cocke insisted that he be allowed to make a statement over O'Neal's objection. He stated that he had the right to make a statement and would make it if he had to go to jail. Mr. Cocke stated he had charged that there were Bailey lobbyists and he wanted an opportunity to prove it.

Mr. Cooper said he had never known Jones to be a lobbyist and praised him for his loyalty to Texas.

Chairman O'Neal made a statement to the effect that "the next time" such a break is made like that just a few minutes ago I shall move that Mr. Cocke be excluded from the room. He said that it was "really ruffianism" and that he was not going to submit to it further. Mr. Cocke made a statement in which he asserted that he believed he had not been extended the same courtesies as others. The chairman ruled Mr. Cocke's remarks out of the record.

J. D. Montgomery was the next witness. He said he met C. A. Walsh of Chicago, who was connected with the Hearst papers, two years ago. He said he saw him later at Dallas. He testified that Walsh wanted to establish a Hearst paper in Texas. Walsh gave him a lot of literature about the Independence league and had some correspondence with him after that.

Mr. Wolfe showed Montgomery a letter which witness identified as having been written to him by Walsh. The letter was about the Independence league and the writer believed a new party was necessary to subvert the best interests of the country. The letter stated that if the junior senator was re-elected from Texas there would be evidence of a machine in Texas. Mr. Montgomery said he was a farmer and did not know anything about the newspaper business, and stated that he only got some statistics about Dallas and vicinity for Walsh. He believed that Walsh had no right to write him a confidential letter, although it was marked such. Montgomery said he was paying his own expenses while at Austin. He said he was subpoenaed to come before the committee, but did not know whether anybody had made oath about what he was to testify to. Witness said he interested himself in the Twenty-eighth senatorial district. He said he was here at the last session for the Farmers' Union and might have been called a "professional lobbyist."

He is here now on private business. Montgomery said he had "lobbied" down here in favor of tax bills and anti-free pass bills. Montgomery claimed that Walsh wanted to employ him to organize the Independence league in Texas, but did not state any details. Montgomery claimed that he saw no professional lobbyists at the time Bailey was re-elected.

A telegram was read from ex-Governor Francis, in which he stated that it would be convenient for him to be examined at St. Louis, but would do as the committee directed. The clerk was ordered to wire him to come at once to Texas.

Governor Campbell was to have been placed on the stand, but he was not found. Adjournment was then taken until Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

THAW'S DEFENSE.

It Began to Assume Definite Shape at Adjournment Wednesday.

New York, Feb. 7.—The defense of Harry K. Thaw, under the direction of Attorney Delphin M. Delmas of California, began to assume definite shape Wednesday and when an adjournment was taken testimony had been placed before the jury to the effect that Stanford White had been heard to make a threat to kill the defendant, coupling the threat with the display of a revolver; that Thaw's actions following the killing of White were considered by several eye-witnesses to have been "irrational;" that an uncle of the defendant was insane; that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw passed a note to her husband during the dinner at Cafe Martin on the evening of the tragedy; that District Attorney Jerome has this note and refused, on demand of the defense, to introduce it in evidence.

Sergeant Frazer Intimates People of Brownsville

DID ALL THE FIRING

In Order to Drive the Negro Soldiers Away and Have the War Department Send to Place White Troops.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The senate committee on military affairs began its third day of the Brownsville hearing Wednesday. Jacob D. Frazer, formerly first sergeant of Company D, Twenty-fifth infantry, was called. Senator Foraker conducted the examination, and had not proceeded far when his methods were challenged by Senator Pettus, who declared that the Ohio senator was "leading" the witness.

Frazer testified that he was married, and with other married soldiers, was permitted to live outside the post quarters, and was at home with his family on the night of Aug. 13. On his way to quarters he heard the general fusillade, which appeared to be B and D companies' quarters. He described the call to arms and the roll call which was ordered by Captain Lyons, and he said he found every man present or accounted for. In detailing the actions of the company after roll call Frazer told of the companies marching through the town after the general shooting had occurred, and of their return to the barracks, where the racks and the men ordered to quarters until the reveille.

Frazer testified that each man was allowed twenty rounds of ammunition. About two days after the trouble all ammunition was ordered in, and all was properly accounted for.

Senator Warner cross-examined the witness. Again describing the first shooting heard by him, Frazer said it appeared to be north of the town, whereas the evidence given by him to the officers in the first examination described it as having been given in front of the quarters. Frazer said the officers taking the affidavits evidently misunderstood his description. He had believed, he said, that some of the soldiers had "shot up" the town, but his opinion was based on the fact that his company commander had told him so.

Frazer said he had heard of previous troubles with negro soldiers in Texas, but knew of nothing "fierce" about the trouble. He stated as his belief that the citizens of Brownsville had "shot up" the town to drive the soldiers away.

Mr. Overman asked: "Do you think citizens would kill one of their number—commit murder to get you away?"

"Frazer replied: 'I don't know whether any one was killed. They wanted us away. Colored men would spend very little money in the saloons on account of their treatment, and the citizens of Brownsville wanted white soldiers who would spend their money.'

With reference to the contention that the citizens of Brownsville were disguised as soldiers, the fact was brought out that the witness had testified in a former hearing that the citizens might have procured discarded caps and uniforms from soldiers who had been there before them. He said, however, that all men in the Twenty-fifth wore hats.

BELL ACCUSED.

He Is Formally Declared the Murderer of Dr. Townsend.

New York, Feb. 7.—The inquest into the murder of Dr. Charles W. Townsend, who was shot while in bed at New Brighton on Jan. 27, and later died from his wounds, resulted in John Bell, a street car conductor, being formally declared the man who fired the shot. The main testimony was that given by Bell's brother, Howard, and his brother-in-law, William Coar. To both the witnesses, they testified, Bell said he had killed Dr. Townsend.

COUNT PASSES AWAY.

Title Conferred by Pope Leo as Honor For Religious Work.

Omaha, Feb. 7.—Count John A. Coughton died at his home here. Count Coughton, who was seventy-five years old, was stricken early in December with double pneumonia, from which he never fully recovered. Kidney and nervous complications arose, and for several days his death has been almost momentarily expected. Pope Leo made him a count for his numerous benefactions and religious work.

INVITED TO TEXAS.

Jap Claims Governor Campbell Sent Him on This Mission.

Los Angeles, Feb. 7.—With an invitation to all the Japanese on the coast to find homes in Texas O. K. Tayama, who claims to have been sent out on his mission by Governor Campbell of Texas, is urging the Japanese of the seaside towns to colonize near Houston, where he is said to own a rice farm of 2,000 acres.

SMELTERS WRECKED.

Molten Metal Explodes, Injuring Five Workmen, Two Fatally.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—An explosion of molten metal, which was accidentally turned over into a pool of cold water at the plant of the Illinois Steel company Wednesday night, injured five workmen, two of them fatally, wrecked two of the smelters and partially demolished four others, causing a loss of $100,000.

FRANCIS WILL TESTIFY.

Preparing to Go to Panama, but He Will Be at Austin.

Austin, Feb. 7.—In response to a telegram from Governor David R. Francis sent a long telegram. He manifested some irritation in the statement that he had offered two weeks ago to come here, and that this request reached him just as he was preparing to go to Panama. He said, however, that he would come here Saturday, if necessary, and he was telegraphed to come on.

John W. Gates telegraphed from New Orleans saying he could not be at Austin.

Mr. Cocke Wednesday preferred some more charges against Senator Bailey, but they do not go into the record. Copies were passed around to the committeemen and by unanimous vote they decided they would must not go into the record.

A. A. Green, Jr., of Dallas was placed on the stand. He said that he had been in Dallas about ten years. Before that a resident of Fort Worth, he said he first met Senator Bailey after the latter came to Gainesville. Senator Bailey had come from an adjoining county in Mississippi to that in which Mr. Green's family were all born, and the two became quite intimate. Senator Bailey had acquired his confidence absolutely in every respect.

"Subsequent to your removal to Texas?" said Mr. Cocke, "did you have any business transactions with him?"

"I moved from Gainesville to Fort Worth," was the reply, "and it was after I moved to Fort Worth that I had transactions with Mr. Bailey."

"What was the nature of these transactions?" asked Mr. Cocke.

Mr. Odell objected to such a question, and the objection was sustained by Chairman O'Neal.

"May I inquire?" asked Mr. Cocke, "if the same objection will be sustained to Senator Bailey testifying with reference to any matter heretofore testified to with reference to this witness' business with him?"

Chairman O'Neal—I will rule on that, Mr. Cocke, whenever it comes up. That's a question that is not now before the committee.

Mr. Cocke—I want to appeal from the ruling of the chair unless I am given that assurance.

Before the vote was taken Mr. Wolfe asked a few questions. In response to these Mr. Green said that the transaction took place in 1890, he thought.

Replying to Mr. Robertson, Mr. Green said that he had purchased a nice piece of property from Senator Bailey and that the transaction was a private one. It had, he said, in no wise any relation to Senator Bailey's duties as a congressman or as a senator.

Mr. Green also said, replying to Mr. Jenkins, that the last correspondence he had had with Senator Bailey about the matter was last year.

COWART'S DENIAL.

Does Not Know Mentz and Never Lobbied With Bailey.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Colonel R. E. Cowart of Dallas states that he has no acquaintance with Mr. Mentz of Houston, who testified before the investigation committee at Austin. Says Colonel Cowart:

"If I read the press reports correctly, Mr. Mentz does not state that I ever told him that I had gone to New York and lobbied with Senator Bailey in favor of any Texas project. I never told him that, nor any other human being, for the simple reason that I never did in any way lobby with Senator Bailey in behalf of any Texas project. While I have a general interest in all Texas projects, I have been representing here only the improvement of the Trinity river. Senator Bailey has been heartily in favor of that, as he has also been in favor of all other legitimate Texas projects. As far as I remember he has always been here when river and harbor matters were pending. I never represented the Kirby Lumber company, directly or indirectly, in any matter in my life. I have never had my throat treated, ostensibly or otherwise. I have never suffered from throat trouble except since the reign of my friend, R. Rankin, began in Dallas. I have, on the Lord's day, except on a few sad occasions, suffered a very unnatural and unaccustomed dryness of my throat, which by hook and by crook of 'de elbow' I have always succeeded in curing."
